LADIES' HOME JOURNAL PATTERNS

Represent the outgrowth and practical application of new ideas; for this reason we have placed them in our pattern section. They are receiving the recognition merited by their superiority. If they were not "better patterns" their defects would be revealed in failures. But failures are impossible in the LADIES' HOME JOURNAL PATTERNS if the instructions are followed. The Guide-Chart makes them so simple and clear that a child can understand them. They are economical, there is no waste of the material, no guess-work in cutting—to say nothing of the satisfaction they afford in style and fit. On receipt of 25c. to pay postage we will send for one year the Monthly Fashion Sheet which contains 16 pages or call at the store and get one free. The Quarterly Style Book, including a pattern coupon worth 10c., illustrates all the patterns and makes it easy for you to order from, only 25c. Our September Fashion Sheets are now in.

The News "Force" were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Barker on Main street by Miss Daisy Dixon last Thursday evening. Several games of flash were enjoyed and delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake also fancy cookies were served. This party was in honor of Miss Jacobs and Mr. McAllister who both leave the News office this week. Mr. McAllister is to accept a more lucrative position elsewhere and Miss Jacobs to enter Kent's Hill Seminary for a year's study.
The annual lawn party which is given by the ladies of the West Bethel Union church will be held in Grosvenor's Backus field, Tuesday afternoon and evening, Sept. 3. There will be an open sale and an ice cream booth and the usual supper of cakes and breads baked in the ground, will be served. This lawn party has always been a very successful and pleasant affair and large numbers of people from the surrounding towns and it is hoped that this year will show no decrease in the general patronage which is annually given to this party.

This is the first time that these brothers and sister have been together for fifty six years. The two brothers are former residents of Bethel, and each have visited Bethel frequently, but they have never been here before together during all these years. They made a very social call at the News office, and were very glad indeed to meet them.

Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 20, the W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. Ernest Cross. The program of the afternoon was of unusual interest. The members had been invited to a picnic supper but the heat and Mrs. Florence had anticipated the arrival of their guests and a table was spread upon the lawn and the addition of hot rolls, cream and fresh berries proved most delicious. The charming view of meadows and mountains lent a charm and the hour to go back to our homes came all too soon but a pleasant memory of the kindly hospitality of the hostess and her daughter will long remain with all who were present. The Union will meet with Mrs. J. L. Billings, Sept. 2.

THE LIBRARY BENEFIT EVENING.

From the parlor to the stable—and back! A progress from the land of enchantment, brilliant with goldenrod, through leafy bowers softly glowing with many colored lanterns to the Forest of Arden, where the shining pair meet the remaining pair, and on through a maze of color and light to the forest haven of the Head Table.

Plans for the Flinch lovers, dominions for the devotees of the solid! Who would not gladly pay the price, not only for the sake of the library, but for the joy of spending an evening in the agreeable society sure to be met on Thursday evening at the Library Party.

One room will be set apart for Flinch and all who desire to play Flinch are requested to bring their Flinch cards. Admission is 25 cents, and there will also be ice cream and cake for sale. The hour is 8 o'clock sharp, Thursday evening, August 29. Do not forget the 8 o'clock sharp as the bell at the first table will sound at that hour and the playing begin.

Mr. Jones—I can't find my hat. Fair One—Good gracious, Mr. Jones, I think I'm sitting on something.

There was a young king from Madrid Who promised his people a kid. When, true to his word, It came, they were afraid To remark with delight: "Well, he did."

I will mail you free, to prove worth samples of my Dr. Sheep's Restorative and my Book on either Dyspepsia, the Heart or the Kidneys. Trouble of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of year after year, and not the cause. Weak Stomach, nerves—the inside nerves—weak Stomach, nerves, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys, as well, have the controlling or inside nerves. Write me to-day for sample and Book. Dr. Sheep's Restorative has made its name for its remedy even before it was the "inside nerves." Also for the long list of ailments, bad breath or complexion, see Dr. Sheep's Restorative. Write me to-day for sample and Book. Dr. Sheep's Restorative, Wis. Dr. Sheep's Restorative is sold by H. E. Peck.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease.

While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physician, who are too busy to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-root is soon realized. It cures the kidneys for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you want a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about kidney disease, free of charge, by mail. Address: Dr. J. C. Smith, Swamp-root Co., P. O. Box 100, New York, N. Y.

part of Judge Sands' stolen fortune; increase his own little pile against the first of January, when, if the little Virginian lady is short a few hundred thousand of the necessary amount, he could, if he found a way to induce her to accept it, supply the deficiency; fatten up a good friend's bank account a million or so, and do a right good thing for the stockholders who are about to meet for the hundredth time, bled out of profits for their."

Bob was proud with enthusiasm the first I had seen him show for three months. Seeing that I had followed him without objection so far, he continued.

As to how Beniah Sands' code had affected my friend, I was ignorant. For the first time in our association was completed, I was dark as to what he was doing stockwise. Up to that Saturday I was the first to whom he would rush for congratulations when he struck it rich over others on the exchange, and he invariably sought me for consolation when the boys "upper cut him hard," as he would put it. Now he never said a word about his losses. I saw that his account with the house was inactive, that his balance was about the same as before Miss Sands' advent, and I came to the conclusion that he was resting on his oars and giving his undivided attention to her account and the execution of his commissions. His handling of the business of the house showed no change. He still was the best runner on the floor. However, knowing Bob as a diff, I could not get it out of me, and, finally, his brain was so much of a puzzle, I sought the tremendous solution of the problem that must be solved in the next three months.

Shortly after the October 1 statements had been sent out, Bob dropped out of Kate and me one night. After that we had no word from him or the cigars in the library he said:

"Jim, I want some of that old-fashioned advice of yours. I sure is welling at this, and it is worth it; in fact, it is cheap. The stock is well distributed among investors, not much of it floating round the street. A good bulk buying movement, well handled, would jump it to 175 and keep it there. And I would like to see you."

"All right. Now what reason is there for a good, big, stiff movement?"

tariff bill is up at Washington. If it goes through, sugar will be cheaper at 175 than at 110."

"Again I agreed.

"Standard Oil" and the sugar people know whether it is going through, or they control the senate and the house and can induce the president to do good. What do you say to that?"

"O. K.," I answered.

"No question about it, is there?"

"Not the slightest."

"Right again. When 26 Broadway gives the secret order to the Washin-

"Well, Jim, I know the Washington [buying] has begun. All I know I have dug out for myself and am free to use it any way I choose. I have gone over the deal with Beulah Sands, and we have decided to plunge. She has a balance of about $400,000, and I am going to spread it this. I am going to buy her 20,000 shares and take on 10,000 for myself. If you want in for 20,000 more, it would give me a wide sea to sail in. I know you never speculate, Jim, for the house, but I thought you might in this case go in personally."

"Thank you, Jim," he said, fervently, and he continued: "Of course, I know what's going through your head, but I'll accept the favor, for the deal is bound to be successful. I know your reason for coming in is just to buy a boat, and that you won't feel badly about your last 50,000 shares will not be used more than a guarantee for the deal's success than for profit. And Miss Sands could not object to the way you play, as she did at the unwriting, for you will get a big profit anyway."

Next day Augus was lively on the exchange. Bob bought all in sight and

DINNER FOR FOUR

A dinner for four is a modest enough undertaking for the little bride who knows a thing or two about cooking, but a dinner for four, to cost not over $1, is a rather more difficult proposition. It is perfectly possible, however to accomplish this task if the cook is willing to plan carefully.

For the meat course have the lamb chops broiled to a perfect brown and serve them on a pretty platter, or better still, a chop plate, with the potatoes arranged in the center. Stand the chops up around the mound of potatoes.

The string beans should be broiled till tender and drained. Cook for two or three minutes in a little butter and Maple Transparency.

Place an iron frying pan on the stove and into it put one-half cup butter, one-half cup sugar, and one cup maple molasses. While this is melting break in four fresh eggs, not beaten, and stir sufficiently to prevent the eggs from cooking in a mass. Cook and stir until the mixture is dry early in the frying pan and is transparent in color. Then remove from the fire and let stand while you line deep pudding dish with a rich pie crust. Add one cupful of juicy fruit to the transparent mixture, pour into the pudding dish, and bake. Tart apples, such as cherries or raspberries, but the leftover will do so well as it is to use.

If your screen door binds on bottom plug with soft wood or hinge holes in door frame, then opposite end of door, when set, resting on a match, attach or hinge in new place. To put into hard wood first make small with nail or drill, then rest screw wet soap before inserting.

WIT AND WISDOM.

Those who have stomach trouble, no matter how slight, should give every possible help to the digestive organs, so that the food may be digested with the least effort. This may be done by finding something that contains natural digestive properties—something like Dr. Fodor's Indigestion and Dyspepsia. This is a preparation of vegetable acids and contains the very same acids found in a healthy stomach. It digests what you eat. Sold by H. A. Sharsh, W. E. Bosserman.
